An effective, participating team member will:

• Respect the right of others to learn.

• Not leave anyone behind or let anyone work ahead.

• Listen carefully to all team members and consider their responses thoroughly.

• Justify and explain ideas instead of giving up when others do not understand.

• Assist in creating team questions to ask the teacher.

• Help anyone on the team who asks—by giving hints and asking good questions, but not by giving answers right away.

• Not talk to another team.

• Not leave anyone behind or let anyone work ahead.
